

Avengers 101: How to Defeat Dr. Doom

Scott Lang | Homework 2 | Fictional submission

1. Is that actually Doom?

I ask an independent sensor team to compare armor readings and look for a robot maintenance hatch. My main qualification is that I also own a suit with alarming maintenance requirements.

2. Assemble a team

Hope handles reconnaissance, Shuri reads sensors, and I distract Doom with close-up magic. Three excellent roles, one deeply unnecessary card trick.

3. Protect the public

Civilians should use the east walkway and meet in the museum courtyard. I will explain the plan using a very small PowerPoint.

4. The dramatic shield

An imaginary Giant Undo Button rewinds only the shield to its off state. It can be pressed just once, because the universe has a strict free-trial policy.

5. The after-action meeting

The shield is off; the sensor display reads zero. I have attached a photograph of the display and a receipt for the celebratory tacos.
